

Which of these isn't real?

We can't be sure about Santa or Rudolph, but there's no question that today's fast food worker "strikes" are total fakes.

Memo to the labor unions organizing these protests: You can't call it a real strike if there's little to no employee participation.

Find out more about how worker centers are pushing the union agenda at
WORKERCENTERS.COM